Speaking out for schools

BRAVE youngsters took to the stage to see who would represent the borough in a capital-wide public speaking competition.

The 15 pupils from schools across the borough faced the crowd at Cardinal Wiseman RC School, in Greenford Road, Greenford, and gave three-minute speeches on a wide range of topics.

Subjects as diverse as animal-testing, racism, Facebook and forgiveness were covered by the 14 and 15-year-olds on Tuesday evening, in the regional final of the Jack Petchey Speak Out Challenge run by SpeakersBank.
